

A CASE OF VERY SEVERE APLASTIC ANEMIA(VSAA)

LMHI Homeopathic World Congress
14.-17.06.2017, Leipzig

Dr. Christian Schuldt, Osnabrück, Germany

MEDICAL HISTORY

- Since 01/14 atraumatic hematomas on upper arms and thighs. Otherwise vital 6 year old girl.
- Past history: in 11/13 she made a fire in her own room in which some of her toys from plastic got burned.
  - Prof. Dr. v. Mühlendahl – pediatrician with focus on environmental medicine and intoxications in childhood: there is no known relation between burn of plastic and VSAA.
- Diagnose of VSAA at University Childrens Hospital Münster in 03/14. Therapy: platelet concentrate, whole blood transfusion, granulocyte stimulation, cortisone. Since 06/14 therapy with cyclosporin A (CSA).

COURSE

- After Phosphorus C200 on 05.08.14: Thrombocytes raised from 14.000/ul to 57.000/ul.
  - 2nd dose without response.
  - Phos. acid C200, Carc C200, Zinc C200, Ferr. met. C200 with no improvement.
- Bone marrow transplantation appointed to 07.04.15 since all children with VSAA of the University Childrens Hospital Münster got such a transplantation or died.
- Could it be a remedy in which phosphorus is only one element?

- E. Trebin (personal message)
  - „There is no existing detailed description of this remedy. But you are allowed to assemble it of its both components, Mercurus and Phosphor or Phosphor acid.“

WHAT DOES THIS IMPLY FOR OUR PRACTICE?

- We may use rare (mineral) remedies even if there is no existing good Materia medica.
- We should know each element of minerals that well to be able to combine them in different ways.
- Concerning the knowledge of remedies it seems to be important to learn about their effectiveness in their specific somatic spectrum. E.g.: Mercur sol. – Blood.

THE RECEPTION OF THIS CASE

- The local newspaper of Osnabrück adverted to bone marrow donation for this girl. 3284 people came for registration. The newspaper wrote finally about this case:

„For doctors the course of disease of this 8 year old girl is a medical wonder “.

THE RECEPTION OF THIS CASE

- The pediatric Oncology of the University Hospital Münster act on the assumption of delayed response to CSA therapy. They consider the fire in the room of this child as cause of the VSAA due to toxic suppression of the bone marrow.
  - The possibility of homeopathic treatment remains without discussion.
- I hope that in the near future we will get an explanation of the homeopathic principle in terms of natural sciences to establish more understanding for the „wonder“ done by homeopathy.
